

Figure created using R statistical software version 3.1.1.

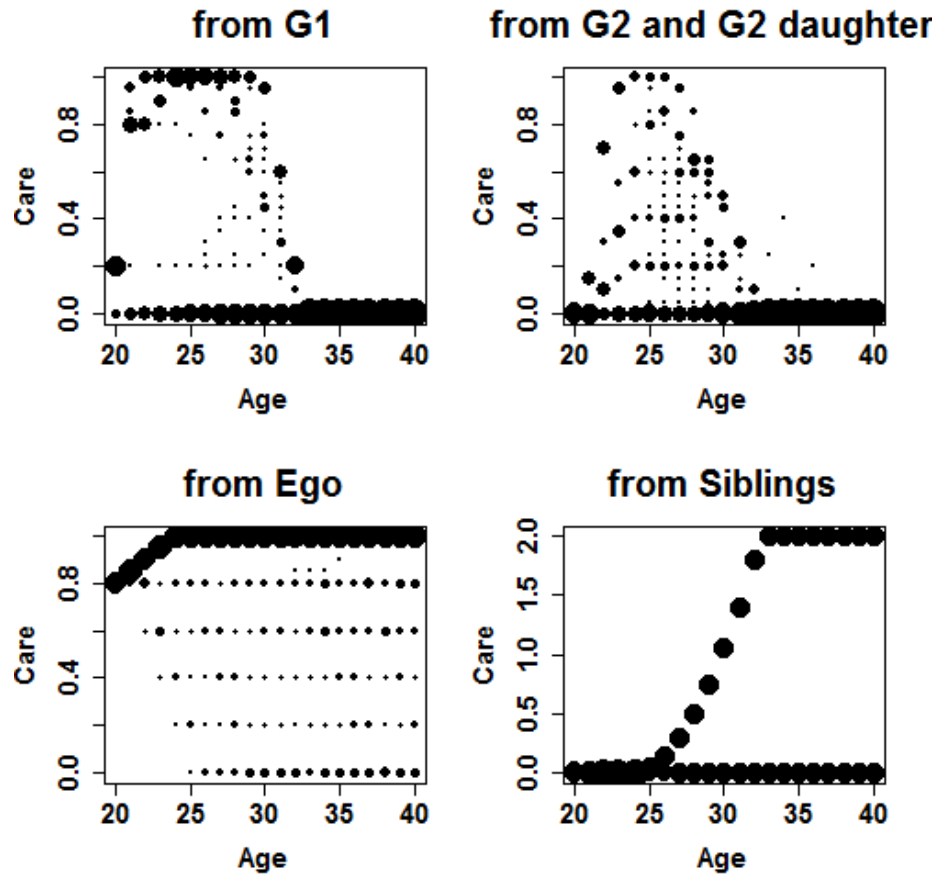

Figure 1: Plots show the care given by different relative classes at each age across 100 simulated generations. The level of clustering across simulations is indicated by the size of the points.